Patriot Day, ROTC Week Set

Silent Majority Here Sees V-Day Come, Go

While many of the nation's "silent majority" rallied and signed petitions supporting President Nixon's Vietnam War policy this week, Canyon residents retained their quiet stance as Veteran's Day came and went.

And, but for the scheduled Patriotism Day and ROTC Week activities this weekend, local residents are likely to remain quiet. No anti-war protests or support is expected to be felt in the city to coincide with a Washington march protesting the war on Saturday.

It was reported to The Canyon News that several instructors at West Texas State University may use class periods for Vietnam War discussions during the latter part of this week.

For Veteran's Day, flags were raised in downtown Canyon by the Jaycees and many flags were seen on residential home lawns.

The 47th Annual Veteran's Day breakfast Tuesday drew about 90 persons to the American Legion Hall. In Amarillo on Tuesday, members of the Reserve Officer Training Corps at WTSU participated in a Veteran's Day parade.

Mary Rando, a West Texas State University freshman majoring in business, spoke to fifth and sixth grade students of Rex Reeves Elementary School Tuesday afternoon with a series of "patriotic" readings.

Introduced by Oscar Hinger, principal, Miss Rando discussed the "flag, the nation, and responsibilities of freedom".

She has received area acclaim for her appearances before civic, church and youth groups of the Texas Panhandle. From Friona, Miss Rando is one of 18 children from a migrant family. She was accompanied with a background of piano music by Beth Williams, sophomore music major from Shamrock.

For her oration, Miss Rando wore the patriotic colors of "red, white and blue" and had the United States flag hung on the backstage curtains.

Canyon's American Legion Auxiliary sold "buddy poppies" in town Monday and Tuesday resulting in a collection of $135.

The 25-member auxiliary uses the funds to pay dues for Gold Star veteran mothers and also to purchase hospital gifts for men in the veteran's hospital to send to their families at holiday times.

An American Flag forms the background for two soldiers and a veteran when local veterans celebrated their day Tuesday while flags flew in downtown Canyon. A Patriotism Day and ROTC Week have been proclaimed for the city this week, also.

Home Season Ends Against BG Falcons

West Texas State University's Buffaloes close their home football season at 2 p.m. Saturday in Buffalo Bowl by hosting strong Bowling Green.

The Bowling Green Falcons support a 4-1 mark in the Mid-America Conference and have earned second place. They are 5-3 for the year, equalling the standard held by the Buffaloes.

Toledo, the Mid-America Conference winner, edged Bowling Green for the title, 27-26.

The Buffaloes, who close their season Nov. 29 in Hattiesburg, Miss., against Southern Mississippi, will put their balanced offense on the line against the powerful Falcon passing game.

The Bowling Green air game is paced by junior quarterback Vern Wireman, who has already established 12 Bowling Green school records. He has hit on 114 out of 120 passes for 1,240 yards and 11 touchdowns. Only eight of his passes have been intercepted.

Wingback Fred Mathews has 47 receptions for 455 yards and six touchdowns. The other principal receiver is split end Bob Zimpfer, who has 34 catches for 521 yards and five scores.

Fullback Issac Wright leads the Falcons in rushing with 274 yards and halfback Jerry Fields has added 203 rushing yards.

The Buffaloes of coach Joe Kerbel, on the other hand, have a more balanced attack between rushing and passing. Fullback Duane Thomas has 778 yards rushing, followed by Olan Thompson with 469 and quarterback Clarence Redic with 235.

The Buffs used the bull-like rushes of fullback Duane Thomas and the gifted quarterbacking of Clarence Redic, plus clutch defensive performances, in beating Western Michigan, 28-20.

Thomas rambled for 169 yards in 25 efforts and scored three touchdowns as the Buffs scored all of their points in the second and third quarters. Redic was the second leading ball carrier with 45 yards in 14 carries and completed five of 10 passes for 106 yards.

Thomas, the Dallas senior, pushed his season total to 778 yards, thus insuring himself of

PRPC Fund Request Tabled

Court Hears Anti-Fund Sentiment

Randall County Commissioners decided again Monday they still don't have enough information to consider voting on a proposed fund request for the Panhandle Regional Planning Commission.

The budget request was tabled until next week.

But, the commissioners received quite a bit of information from several persons who attended the Monday session.

"We appreciate your caution," said Mrs. Jim Hale of Amarillo. "It's interesting that there are always a few more things they forgot to tell you at first that are necessary."

Mrs. Hale spoke of a recent PRPC budget proposal and an informal proposal concerning seeking a qualified executive director for the planning entity.

Randall Commissioners went on record in early September favoring a regional planning commission if such commission did not have a budget or representatives who were not elected officials.

The earlier resolution has caused the commission much concern in recent weeks as the PRPC has asked for about $10,000 in funds from the four member agencies.

Mrs. Hale noted that law requires the regional planning commission to hire an executive director within 12 months after forming.

She told commissioners she fears the 3-cent per capita budget levy for Randall County and other member entities "is only a beginning.."

An Amarillo attorney, John Broadfoot, told the court he doesn't "care what you do--I just hope you don't run our taxes up."

Mrs. Hale said the PRPC is required by law to have a housing element, which would coordinate with the Department of Housing and Urban Development.

She said in reading of other regional planning commissions, she found that the commission in San Antonio has a staff of 39 persons.

"I don't see how you can do all these things without money," she said. "And we all know the only place to get money like that is from taxes."

At last week's PRPC meeting in Amarillo, Randall Commissioner Bill Butler questioned

Hapless CHS To Meet Hapless Muleshoe

Friday night in the Buffalo Bowl, if God's willin' and the creek don't rise, either the Canyon Eagles will snap a four-game losing streak or the winless Muleshoe Mules won't be winless anymore.

Muleshoe will likely go to the air against Canyon, according to Coach Fred Hedgecoke, whose charges are 0-7 for the season.

"We didn't start out planning to throw as much as we do, but we've had to throw through necessity," Hedgecoke said. "We're just not big enough to line up and run over anybody."

Hedgecoke said his offensive line, which includes three sophomores, averages only about 145 pounds per man and that most of his starters will have to play both offense and defense against the Eagles.

"Canyon has a real fine ball club with a lot of depth. They platoon a lot, which is an indication of their depth. I'm especially impressed with their defensive team. They're really tough."

Hedgecoke said his varsity consists of only 30 players with injuries cutting the squad down from the 35 that started the season.

"We've been having as difficult a time as anybody could have," Hedgecoke said of the winless season. "Yet not one boy has quit the team since two-a-day drills. Our losing is not a lack of character or a lack of pride. We just have little people. I couldn't say enough good things about our kids.

"They've improved as the season progressed and I think they've done a real good job."

On his passing game, Hedgecoke said Dennis Beene and Mike Riley will alternate and that while one is playing quarterback the other will remain in the game as a running back.

"Both boys can throw the ball pretty well," he said.

The alternating system was initiated when the starting quarterback, Ronnie Barrett, was injured and lost for the season. He said he also lost starting tailback Bobby Hayes who suffered a broken ankle.

But the Eagles will not be looking at the Mules' record, they'll be looking for a win, according to Coach Dunny Goode.

"We need these last two

Cost To Try Case--$600

BY PAUL BASCUS

Law enforcement is a popular topic of conversation these days, which is unusual only in that nearly everybody is in favor ot it--it's not very controversial.

Most people in this country have always favored enforcing the laws, but publicity given the spiraling crime rate, particularly to crimes of violence, has aroused an increasing concern among the public.

Many people, who a few years ago thought of law enforcement only as FBI agents, sheriff's deputies or policemen arresting criminals, now have informed themselves of the main elements in the entire proccdure in criminal prosecution.

They read news of high court decisions on criminal cases and know that the mere arrest of a suspect does not solve a crime or bring a lawbreaker to justice. They're aware of the lengthy appeal routes through state and federal appellate courts and that there are technicalities involved in convicting a criminal and then making it stick.

Getting convictions, convictions that will survive the scrutiny of the appellate court, is the business of the prosecutor representing the state and in Randall County those chores are handled by Criminal Dist. Atty. George Dowlen and his assistant Michael J. Hinton.

Most people would say convicting criminals is what Dowlen and Hinton are being paid for. The reason they would say that is because criminal prosecution is included in Dowlen's and Hinton's duties and criminals and law enforcement are very much in the minds of the public.

Actually, prosecuting defendants in court takes only a small fraction of the time Dowlen and Hinton put into discharging their duties.

In Randall County, as is the case most everywhere else, the majority of the criminal cases set for trial are disposed of through pleas of guilty before the court in a non-jury proceeding.

This does not mean that the prosecution did not have to be prepared to try the case before a jury, because much of the time the defendant does not decide to plea until just before time for his case to be tried.

In a given week, five cases may be set for trial and the prosecution must be ready to try each case. Dowlen or Hinton may be "fairly con-

A state-wide proclamation by Texas Gov. Preston Smith will highlight ROTC Week, which has been proclaimed in Canyon to run today through Nov. 20.

Gov. Smith, who will be visiting in Canyon Monday, will proclaim a state-wide ROTC Week during dedication ceremonies at Hero Field, West Texas State University's ROTC physical training course.

The proclamation will be given Lt. Col. Billy R. Smith, professor of military science at the university.

Also in connection with ROTC week, Canyon residents will have the opportunity Saturday to participate in Patriotism Day, which is also sponsored by the Reserve Officer Training Corps at WTSU.

Patriotism Day is set to coincide with and counter-act a national Vietnam War protest movement.

Canyon Mayor Paul Lindsey signed a proclamation Tuesday setting today through Nov. 20 as ROTC Week in honor of the 150th Anniversary of college ROTC.

Other highlights of ROTC Week--other than Gov. Smith's proclamation and Patriotism Day--will include a three-state drill meet and a special salute to veterans.

Lt. Col. Smith said the week's activities will begin about 1 p.m. today when he delivers a special speech to the more than 400 ROTC cadets on the drill field east of Jarrett Hall.

The colonel's speech will concern Veterans Day and ROTC. Following his speech, a three-round salute to area veterans will be fired from the ROTC 75 millimeter howitzer.

Beginning at 8 a.m. Saturday, five drill teams from throughout Texas and the Tri-State area will compete on the WTSU campus as a part of the ROTC detachment's fourth annual meet.

Sponsored by the Society of Scabbard and Blade, national honorary ROTC fraternity, the meet will feature teams from

Drug Abuse Council May Join With PRCC

The Canyon drug abuse council was left in the lurch Tuesday night on plans to incorporate and combine with a similar Amarillo group when that group failed to attend the meeting.

Members of the Amarillo group were to submit names Tuesday for a proposed advisory board and board of directors.

The two councils informally decided last week to incorporate and combine in their effort to combat drug abuse in the two-county area.

The Canyon council decided, however, that perhaps it should talk with members of the Potter-Randall Citizens Committee in Amarillo about becoming a committee of that entity.

Weldon Trice, member of the local council, said he attended a meeting with the PRCC Tuesday afternoon at which the committee outlined a plan of attack on the drug problem.

"I think maybe we should join with the PRCC," he said. "They're really getting with it."

Local council chairman Rhett

Give Gold Star Awards

The highest county awards for outstanding 4-H work and records was awarded Saturday night to Jerry Crain and Linda Hales at the annual 4-H achievements banquet.

The top awards of Gold Star Boy and Girl will entitle Crain and Miss Hales, their parents and county extension leaders to attend the District 4-H Gold Star Banquet in Amarillo at the YWCA Building, 1006 South Jackson this Saturday at 6 p.m.

Thirty-three other awards were presented to 4-H students in project areas of club work by John Brazzil, county agent, and Becky Hall, home demonstration agent.

Creative Low-Cost Cookery from Hunt-Wesson Foods: No. 3 of a Series

How to get 3 different dinners from one thrifty chuck roast.

MEAT IS MONEY

Take advantage of sales and bargains. Buy meats listed as "plentiful" by the USDA, when available. When not, you can still get more for your money by shopping for advertised specials and buying larger cuts. Chuck Roast is a good example. A 9-lb. blade roast, 4½ inches thick, yields enough high-protein, boneless meat for 3 fresh-cooked meals at a minimum cost for each dinner.

1 HERE'S WHAT YOU DO. Cut through natural dividing seams of connective tissues and remove bones. The large center piece becomes a 3-lb. boneless Pot Roast.

HARDY POT ROAST SUPPER

- 3 to 3½ lb. pot roast, cut from your beef chuck roast, rolled
- Salt and pepper
- 2 Tablesp. Wesson Oil
- 1 clove garlic, crushed
- 2 (8-oz.) or 1 (15-oz.) can Hunt's Tomato Sauce with Tomato Bits
- 1 cup water
- 1 onion, quartered
- 1 cup sliced celery
- 3 medium potatoes, pared and halved
- 6 carrots, quartered

Sprinkle roast with salt and pepper; brown in Wesson in Dutch oven, drain fat. Add garlic, Hunt'sauce, water and onion. Cover. Simmer 1½ hours. Add vegetables, 1½ teasp. salt; simmer, covered, 1-hour more. Makes 6 nourishing servings.

NOTHING SKIMPY about Hunt'sauce with Tomato Bits. It's extra rich with extra tomatoes, extra thick: goes farther in cooking.

This month's U.S.D.A. Plentiful Foods are: Broiler/Fryers, apples, fresh pears, canned peaches, potatoes, rice and dry split peas.

2 HERE'S WHAT YOU DO. Bone out meat around flat bone and cube it for 2-lbs. of stew, soup or casserole meat.

HUNGARIAN GOULASH

- 2 onions, sliced
- ⅓ cup Wesson Oil
- 2 lbs. stew meat cut from your chuck roast in 1½-inch cubes
- 1 Tablesp. paprika
- 2 teasp. salt
- ¼ teasp. pepper
- 1 (6-oz.) can Hunt's Tomato Paste
- 1½ cups water
- 1 clove garlic, minced
- ½ cup sour cream, if desired

In Dutch oven cook onions in oil until tender, stirring frequently; remove and reserve. Combine paprika, 1 teaspoon salt and pepper; coat meat with mixture. Brown meat in drippings; return onions to pan. Stir in Hunt's Tomato Paste, water, garlic and remaining salt. Simmer, stirring occasionally, for 1½ to 2 hours, or until meat is tender. (If necessary, add a bit more water for desired consistency.) Stir in sour cream; keep hot but do not boil. Will make 6 servings. Serve over hot noodles.

A WORLD OF DIFFERENCE can be made in your favorite main dish recipes with Hunt's Tomato Paste. Hunt is the thick one. And the thicker paste gives the richest taste. Trust Hunt to help make low-cost meals more nourishing and creative.

In our Hunt Wesson Kitchens we develop nutritious low-cost recipes from the Plentiful Foods List sent to us each month by the U.S. Department of Agriculture. In these recipes we use only thrifty meat cuts. Follow our Low-Cost Cooking Guide regularly. It helps make your food dollar go farther, your shopping easier, your economy meals more tasty.

3 HERE'S WHAT YOU DO. The smaller rib muscle is more tender and can be cut into 4 boneless steaks about 8-oz. each, to pan-broil.

FAMILY STEAK DINNER with Oven-Fried Potatoes*

Use 4 chuck steaks cut from your chuck roast. Brush lightly with 2 Tablsp. Wesson Oil; cook in hot skillet 3 to 5 minutes on each side. Serve on 4 slices of buttered toast. Add 2 Tablsp. Hunt's Catsup, 2 Tablsp. water, 1 teasp. Worcestershire sauce to skillet drippings; stir, heat, spoon over steaks.

Country Oven-Fried Potatoes

Pare and quarter 4 medium potatoes; dip in 2 Tablsp. Wesson, place in shallow pan. Sprinkle with seasoned salt and pepper. Bake at 400° for 45 minutes or until tender and nicely browned. Makes 4-6 servings.

FREE "Low Cost Cookery" Cookbook of new easy recipes. Free when you buy any of these items at your local market: Hunt's Tomato Sauce, Hunt's Tomato Paste, Hunt's Catsup, Wesson Oil.

"We didn't start out planning to throw as much as we do, but we've had to throw through necessity," Hedgecoke said. "We're just not big enough to line up and run over anybody."

Hedgecoke said his offensive line, which includes three sophomores, averages only about 145 pounds per man and that most of his starters will have to play both offense and defense against the Eagles.

"Canyon has a real fine ball club with a lot of depth. They platoon a lot, which is an indication of their depth. I'm especially impressed with their defensive team. They're really tough."

Hedgecoke said his varsity consists of only 30 players with injuries cutting the squad down from the 35 that started the season.

"We've been having as difficult a time as anybody could have," Hedgecoke said of the winless season. "Yet not one boy has quit the team since two-a-day drills. Our losing is not a lack of character or a lack of pride. We just have little people. I couldn't say enough good things about our kids.

"They've improved as the season progressed and I think they've done a real good job."

On his passing game, Hedgecoke said Dennis Beene and Mike Riley will alternate and that while one is playing quarterback the other will remain in the game as a running back.

"Both boys can throw the ball pretty well," he said.

The alternating system was initiated when the starting quarterback, Ronnie Barrett, was injured and lost for the season. He said he also lost starting tailback Bobby Hayes who suffered a broken ankle.

But the Eagles will not be looking at the Mules' record, they'll be looking for a win, according to Coach Dunny Goode.

Drug Abuse Council May Join With PRCC

The Canyon drug abuse council was left in the lurch Tuesday night on plans to incorporate and combine with a similar Amarillo group when that group failed to attend the meeting.

Members of the Amarillo group were to submit names Tuesday for a proposed advisory board and board of directors.

The two councils informally decided last week to incorporate and combine in their effort to combat drug abuse in the two-county area.

The Canyon council decided, however, that perhaps it should talk with members of the Potter-Randall Citizens Committee in Amarillo about becoming a committee of that entity.

Weldon Trice, member of the local council, said he attended a meeting with the PRCC Tuesday afternoon at which the committee outlined a plan of attack on the drug problem.

"I think maybe we should join with the PRCC," he said. "They're really getting with it."

Cost To Try Case--$600

BY PAUL BASCUS

Law enforcement is a popular topic of conversation these days, which is unusual only in that nearly everybody is in favor of it--it's not very controversial.

Most people in this country have always favored enforcing the laws, but publicity given the spiraling crime rate, particularly to crimes of violence, has aroused an increasing concern among the public.

Many people, who a few years ago thought of law enforcement only as FBI agents, sheriff's deputies or policemen arresting criminals, now have informed themselves of the main elements in the entire procedure in criminal prosecution.

They read news of high court decisions on criminal cases and know that the mere arrest of a suspect does not solve a crime or bring a lawbreaker to justice. They're aware of the lengthy appeal routes through state and federal appellate courts and that there are technicalities involved in convicting a criminal and then making it stick.

Getting convictions, convictions that will survive the scrutiny of the appellate court, is the business of the prosecutor representing the state and in Randall County those chores are handled by Criminal Dist. Atty. George Dowlen and his assistant Michael J. Hinton.

Most people would say convicting criminals is what Dowlen and Hinton are being paid for. The reason they would say that is because criminal prosecution is included in Dowlen's and Hinton's duties and criminals and law enforcement are very much in the minds of the public.

Actually, prosecuting defendants in court takes only a small fraction of the time Dowlen and Hinton put into discharging their duties.

In Randall County, as is the case most everywhere else, the majority of the criminal cases set for trial are disposed of through pleas of guilty before the court in a non-jury proceeding.

This does not mean that the prosecution did not have to be prepared to try the case before a jury, because much of the time the defendant does not decide to plea until just before time for his case to be tried.

In a given week, five cases may be set for trial and the prosecution must be ready to try each case. Dowlen or Hinton may be "fairly con-

Give Gold Star Awards

The highest county awards for outstanding 4-H work and records was awarded Saturday night to Jerry Crain and Linda Hales at the annual 4-H achievements banquet.

The top awards of Gold Star Boy and Girl will entitle Crain and Miss Hales, their parents and county extension leaders to attend the District 4-H Gold Star Banquet in Amarillo at the YWCA Building, 1006 South Jackson this Saturday at 6 p.m.

Thirty-three other awards were presented to 4-H students in project areas of club work by John Brazzil, county agent, and Becky Hall, home demonstration agent.

Crain, son of Mr. and Mrs. Cristler Crain, has been in 4-H for nine years. He is a member and past president of Cleta 4-H Club and has had projects in swine, leadership, recreation, agri-business, poultry and dairy cattle. He is a freshman student at West Texas State University and graduated from Canyon High School this past spring. He studied vocational agriculture for four years and was a member of the state championship 4-H dairy judging team in 1967.

FROM THE CANYON RIM

Governor Preston Smith will be coming to town Monday and we expect a crowd of some 200 to turn out for his luncheon speech before a joint meeting of Canyon civic clubs.

Plans are in the mill for Ralph Wayne, state representative from Plainview, to act as master of ceremonies. Nothing could be more fitting. Ralph deserves some recognition here at Canyon.

He is a graduate of West Texas State University and carried more than his share of the load in getting the separate regents bill through the legislature.

The governor will be given the full glad hand treatment while he is here. He will be met at his motel in Amarillo by the Chamber of Commerce Red Carpet Committee and escorted to Canyon by a group of officers headed up by Sheriff Slim Johnston.

Here at Canyon he will dedicate the WTSU Hero Field---the university ROTC drill field named for graduates who have died in Vietnam. Since ROTC week begins Sunday, the governor will hand Colonel Billy Smith, commandant, a proclamation making ROTC week official across the state of Texas.

I noticed the frost beginning to melt on the relationship between Governor Smith and Canyon's Senator Grady Hazlewood at the Ex-Students banquet here last month.

The governor was unable to attend but had he done so he would have heard himself praised by his former foe--The Old Gray Fox of the Panhandle.

Clyde Walters, writing in The Sunday News-Globe, recently said the governor and the senator have buried the hatchet.

Those of us who look upon the governor and the senator as two of the state's outstanding leaders are gratified.

Saturday is to be styled as patriotism day across the country---a day when the great silent majority is to make itself heard.

Don't be surprised if the members of this segment of society do not pour out into the streets in a flag waving frenzy. Most of them are just not that type. And herein may lie much of their strength.

The black armbanders mustered a reported half million Oct. 15 and were hailed by national press and television as capable of pressuring the President.

This figure amounted to about a quarter of one percent of the population of this vast country. They constitute hardly an important voice with which to be reckoned in national affairs.

No, the great silent majority will not pour out into the streets so look for the national press and TV to sneer at its seeming impotence.

These silent ones are really a feeble lot. About the only thing they are able to do is to feed, clothe and shelter the nation, elect Presidents and run the country. For this a fervent "Thank God."

The Canyon News and Sunday News will soon be set in type on a new Photon computer. The computer will spit out about 15 columns of type an hour---about as much as a battery of 10 Linotypes could set in the old days.

"I wish my daddy could have lived to see something like it," Mrs. Dorothy Haley remarked recently discussing the projected News improvements.

Mrs. Haley's father was Clyde Warwick who operated The News for almost a half century.

It is time to start thinking about the community's Christmas present for La Casa Canyon Convalescent Home.

Last year the community bought a color television set for the home and Manager Don York tells me that the people who live there enjoy it tremendously.

Don says a new piano would brighten up the home considerably. So I'm suggesting that we think about purchasing one. More on this subject later.

Probable Candidate To Visit

The probable Republican candidate for the U. S. Senate next year, Congressman George Bush, will be keynote speaker Nov. 22 at a fund-raising dinner in Amarillo.

Bush, who aspires for the seat now held by senior Texas Sen. Ralph Yarbrough, is serving his second term as a Houston Representative in Congress.

He was defeated by Yarbrough in 1964.

Rep. Bob Price of Pampa will introduce Bush at the dinner, which will be in the commercial exhibits building at the Tri-State Fairgrounds.

Bush, a native of Milton, Mass., moved to Texas in 1948 and to Houston in 1959. Before election to Congress, he was active in the oil business on the Gulf coast.

As a congressman, he is a member of the powerful House Ways and Means Committee.

Our World

BY ANN BROWN

A committee of 16 men has been given one million dollars and twelve months to investigate the causes of juvenile delinquency. Any first-grade teacher could produce the answer instantly in 5 words--for free: lack of respect for authority.

Parents are a child's first contact with authority. When kind and loving parents set good examples for their children to follow, and make definite rules of conduct, which are firmly and consistently enforced, they seldom encounter disciplinary problems or face a "generation gap" in communications.

But many parents have one standard of conduct for themselves and another for their children. They "send" their children to Sunday School. They forbid smoking and drinking while they indulge in both. They condemn pornography, but they patronize dirty movies, and read Playboy and "modern" romances.

Statistics on juvenile behavior reveal that children react much more favorably to authority that is consistently cruel or consistently lax than they do to inconsistent discipline of any kind.

When a child is learning to adjust to life, and forming his own unique identity, his most dire need is an appropriate and unwavering example to follow. He needs a consistent code of conduct if he is to cope with his frustrating, frightening, formidable world.

It is almost impossible for anyone to respect an authority that is not respectable. The child who learns to respect and obey his parents seldom has any difficulty submitting to the succeeding authorities he encounters in life.

The teacher is the child's second contact with authority. If he has learned to trust his parents, and be respectful and obedient to them, he is not likely to have problems with his teachers.

The child's third contact with authority is the police. If he has been properly reared, he will regard policemen as his friends and protectors. The mother who treatens to give her naughty off-spring to "that big, bad policeman" naturally leads her children to regard the police as their mortal enemies.

There are few things more important to a child's welfare than for him to learn to respect duly consituted authority. A man who has spent 30 years with an emergency first-aid unit reports having seen a tragic number of children die simply because they had not learned to obey. Several had swallowed poison; they died because they stubbornly refused to submit either to commands or entreaties to swallow an antidote. Others died in burning buildings because they had not learned to trust their leaders sufficiently to obey a command to jump.

In direct disobedience to parental rules, children enter forbidden swimming pools, caves, construction projects, busy streets, strangers' automobiles, and other lethal areas. It is impossible for parents to watch over their children every minute, but it is not impossible to teach them to be obedient.

All the money, investigating committees, prisons and rehabilitation programs in the world will not compensate for negligent or permissive parents. And inasmuch as our schools and courts are even more permissive than parents, it is easy to understand why American crime is increasing 9 times faster than the population.

Frequently, parents will ignore gross misconduct if they are in a good humor, and punish a child severly for a minor infraction of the rules if they are in a bad mood. This creates contempt--rather than respect--for authority.

The most important and final authority man encounters is his Creator. One who has never learned to submit to parents, teachers, or the law, is not likely to be able to bend his will to the will of God. So for heaven's sake as well as earth's, parents should teach their children to respect authority.

PLOWDOWN NITROMITE THIS FALL

If the big rains come again next Spring, you're safe – with nitrogen already in the ground to give young plants a strong start. And you get the job done when the product, labor, and equipment are readily available. No last-minute rush.

Even if you graze stalks this fall, there'll still be lots of crop residue left in the field. NITROMITE plowdown will aid decomposition of this residue, releasing valuable nutrients for new plants in the Spring.

The clincher is at harvest: if ever there was a good time, this will be the year to give your crop a great big shot in the yield with NITROMITE, Shamrock's fine brand of anhydrous ammonia – 82% nitrogen for bigger, high-protein yields.

MAKE-UP for the opera "Gianni Schicchi" is applied by Royal Brantley to his own ten-year-old son, Royal R. Brantley, as the final days of practice await the double opera offering by the West Texas State University opera workshop.

Son Has Role In Beginning Show Of Dad

Royal Rugel Brantley, age 10, will perform next week as Gherardino in the one-act comic opera "Gianni Schicchi".

He will be the only child in the cast for the West Texas State University opera workshop which will have performances November 19-22 at 8:15 nightly in the Branding Iron Theatre.

Performed, in addition to "Gianni Schicchi," will be "Amelia Goes To the Ball'.

The young Brantley is creating a role in "Gianni Schicchi" as the son of Gherardo and Nella, who are relatives of Buoso Donati (the deceased).

Brantley's father, who is workshop director and conductor of the orchestra, had his first major role in the same opera back in 1948 when "Gianni Schicchi" was performed in opera workshop at the University of Texas.

Similarly, young Brantley recently performed in an elementary school play as the lead character of 'Jack Frost' which was his father's first role in a central Texas grade school operetta when he was in the first grade. The younger Brantley created the role as a third grade student.

Young Brantley, who has the same name as his father with the exception of the middle name, played his first show at the age of one when he was carried onstage in a scene of Siamese children during "The King and I" which had his father playing as the king back in 1960. That performance was also in the Branding Iron Theatre.

In fact all of Brantley's children were in the cast of "The King and I". Both daughters, Susan (now Mrs. Terry Milligan) and Julie (a public school student) played princesses in the show and older son, John, was a prince.

Since that first performance, young Brantley has appeared in "Carousel", "LaBoheme" and "Most Happy Fella" at West Texas State University. He has also played in the high school productions of "Music Man" and "Carnival" and has been with the cast of the outdoor drama "TEXAS" for three years.

In the spring of 1968, Mr. Brantley played alongside his son in the "Most Happy Fella". He said that "it is healthy to remind yourself what you are asking of your students and there is no better way than to have a role in a production".

Brantley earned his bachelor's degree at Southwest Texas State College in San Marcos and earned the master's at the University of Texas. He is presently doing doctoral work at Indiana University.

"When I was in school," said Mr. Brantley, "there was no emphasis in drama at the high school level and I studied primarily music during my undergraduate years."

"Until I came here to teach, the role in 'Gianni Schicchi' at the University of Texas in 1948 was my only experience in production."

"I have 'learned-on-the-job' since coming to West Texas," he concluded explaining that he came to West Texas expecting to do voice and oratorio.

When the stage lights go up on "Gianni Schicchi" next Wednesday evening, Brantley will retire to the orchestra pit along with the musicians which he will direct during the four performances.

He has already spent many hours in preparation for the show as conductor and the two one-act operas now lack only the final dress rehearsals.

The box office will open Monday. Tickets for the two one-act comic operas are $2.50 for adults, $1.50 for public school students and children; and WTSU students will be admitted free with ID cards. All seats will be reserved.

Dear Fellow Citizen:

Each of us who makes a home in Canyon shares a vital interest in the welfare and development of our community and an abiding faith in its future. None feel more keenly or practice more diligently this concern for our community than the members of your City Commission. It is this concern and mindfulness of our absolute duty to familiarize the citizens with the major issues that confront our city that compels us to approach you with a matter of grave importance.

On Tuesday, November 18, 1969, a special election will be held for Canyon voters to consider the adoption of a one percent municipal sales tax. The issue before you involves the need for selecting the most desirable source of revenue from which to finance the steadily rising level of municipal services which the residents of this city expect to receive from their municipal government. After careful examination of the alternatives, the City Commission commends the local option sales tax to you as the most equitable, convenient and potentially adequate source available.

This letter has been prepared to acquaint you more fully with the sales tax and its implications for you as a taxpayer and as a recipient of municipal services. We welcome your comments and urge you to call or write us for additional information to aid you in casting an informed ballot on election day.

Sincerely,

Paul Lindsey, Mayor

MARK OF EXCELLENCE

Impala's hidden persuaders:

① 350-cu.-in. engine
A new more powerful standard 250-hp V8 makes the 1970 Impala move with all the more assurance.
On good ol' regular gas.

② Anti-theft column lock
A locking system is built right into the steering column. When you take your key with you, you lock not only your ignition but your steering wheel as well.

③ Aluminized exhaust system
It simply means that your original muffler, tailpipe and exhaust are going to last longer than you'd probably expect them to.
Fair enough?

④ Side guard beams
They look like highway guard rails, and they're built into both sides of the car for extra protection in case of impact.
Not too many cars have them.

⑤ Inner fenders
Up inside every fender is another fender to protect against slush and mud and help keep your Impala looking young.

⑥ Flush and dry
We build the car so that rain and wash water can run down through the inside of the rocker panels, then out.
Air follows to do the drying.

⑦ Full Coil suspension
Huge coil springs at all four wheels are four big reasons why a Chevrolet Impala rides smoother and quieter than a low-priced car has any right to.

Miss Potts-Fletcher Married In Hawaii

J'Melle Potts and Gary James Fletcher exchanged nuptial vows Monday, November 10, at 4 p.m. at Post Chapel, Fort DeRussy in Honolulu, Hawaii.

Chaplain Heyward R. Knight, protestant minister, officiated at the double ring marriage vows.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James A. Potts of Amarillo and parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. James I. Fletcher of Lake Tanglewood.

Traditional Hawaiian flowers and organ music were the setting for the ceremony as the bride wore a street length candlelight silk crepe with sleeves and collar of imported candlelight lace for the occasion. She wore a short veil of candlelight illusion, a blue garter made by Mrs. J. E. Fletcher, and for something old and borrowed wore a diamond necklace belonging to Mrs. E. L. Barnett, grandmother of the bridegroom.

The couple will take a wedding trip to the Island of Oahu in Hawaii and for travel the bride wore a red, white and blue knit dress and coat with navy accessories.

A graduate of Tascosa High School, the bride earned the B. S. degree at West Texas State University, attended Texas Tech University and is presently a teacher in the Amarillo Public Schools at Avondale Elementary.

The bridegroom graduated from Canyon High School and West Texas State University, where he was commander of Sigma Nu fraternity. He is presently on active duty with the United States Army at Long Binh, South Vietnam.

December Plans Made

Rev. and Mrs. H. D. Freeman of Canyon announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Dayna Ann, to James Carlton Warren, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. James C. Warren of Muleshoe.

A December 27 wedding is planned at the Calvary Baptist Church.

The bride-elect is a 1969 graduate of Canyon High School.

Her fiance is a 1968 graduate of Muleshoe High School and attends West Texas State University where he is majoring in data processing and computer science. He is assistant manager of the Su Roca Apartments in Canyon.

Study Course Title Is Journeyman In Jordan

"Journeyman In Jordan" was the title of the annual Foreign Mission Study Program of the Young Women's Association of the First Baptist Church.

The study course was taught by Mrs. Raymond Raillard and consisted of five hours of study, lecture, discussion, and an evening meal of foods native to the Middle East.

The book, Journeyman In Jordan, is the story of an American girl who is a nurse and works in a large Baptist Hospital in Jordan. The difficulties and joys involved in helping people of another faith and very different beliefs exemplifies the teachings of Christ.

The study also consisted of the geographical aspects of Jordan and history of the country.

The college level YWA's were responsible for the decorations on the banquet tables as well as the special table decorated with a Mosque, Koran (Moslem Bible), Oasis, and a King James version of Bible made with a backing of olive wood.

The banquet tables were arranged with decorated place mats and napkins. Artificial palm trees were planted down the center of the tables in small beds of sand and pebbles. Place cards were camels, made from a furry type board, with name tags hanging from their necks.

Food for the occasion was furnished by the high school level YWA's. On the menu was an Arabic tea which was a sweetened tea with orange juice and lemon juice. The main dish was called Couscous. This was a rice dish with meat and vegetables. The bread, or chroost, was a bread dipped in olive oil before it was baked, and the desert was small almond cakes or cookies called Lauz Khubz.

Attending the study course were Judith McClaran, Kathy Harris, Jean Farmer, Mrs. Jack Williams, Janne Malone, Mrs. David Hunt, Debbie Whisler, Barbara Anderson, Janna Johnson, Ann Aleman, Celinda Chism, and Mrs. Raymond Raillard.

Mrs. Raymond Raillard discusses the program for the day with Kathryn Harris who is dressed in costume native to the Middle East. In the background are some of the decorations provided by the college level YWA's. Kathryn welcomed the guests to the annual study course.

Art Of Being Topic Of HWC

April Lawrance, owner and operator of St. John Modeling School in Amarillo, will present the program "The Art of Being" for the Heritage Woman's Club guest night meeting November 17.

Mrs. Lawrance received the B. A. degree from the University of Pittsburg and teaches a course in personal development at West Texas State University.

A regular business session will be conducted by the club president Mrs. Jack Tillinghast. The meeting, which begins at 7:30 p.m., will be held in the lobby of West Texas State Bank with hostesses including Cleo Brown, Marcia Eavenson, Johnnie Gordon and Darlene Hollabaugh.

Pamela Jean Calder

January Vows Set

Colonel (retired) and Mrs. Henry London Calder, Jr. of Dallas announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Pamela Jean, to Billie Alfred Francis, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Billie Alfred Francis of Houston.

The bride-elect is a 1964 graduate of Canyon High School and was graduated from West Texas State University in 1968 where she was vice president of Zeta Tau Alpha national social sorority, secretary of her senior class and a member of Who's Who Among Students in American Colleges and Universities.

ROTC Coed Given Medal For Husband

Betty Ann Bean, a coed Reserve Officer Training Corps student at West Texas State University, was presented nine medals including the Bronze and Silver Stars Sunday in recognition of the valor of her late husband.

Mrs. Bean, who was the object of a feature story recently in The Canyon Sunday News, received the medals from Gen. Seldon Simpson of the Texas National Guard in ceremonies in his office.

Her husband, 1st. Lt. Jimmy Bean, was killed in action in Vietnam last March. Citations attached to the medals said he selflessly tried, himself, to rescue several wounded soldiers.

The medals presented Mrs. Bean included the Bronze Star, the Silver Star with V device, two Purple Hearts, the Combat Infantryman's Badge, the Vietnam Combat Medal, the Vietnam Service Medal, the National Defense Medal and the Sharpshooter Medal.

Going somewhere? Or been? The Canyon News wants to know about it--and so do its readers.

Canyon Mayor Paul Lindsey hands a proclamation to Cadet Col. Hal Blair and Angel Corps member Betty Bean during ceremonies Tuesday, when the mayor proclaimed today through Nov. 20 as ROTC Week and Saturday as Patriotism Day.

Board of directors of the Friends of the Fine Arts for West Texas State University will have their first annual meeting Dec. 8 on the campus.

Officers will be elected at the meeting.

Dear friends,

We recently listened to an address in which the speaker said success in any line depends upon one's usefulness.

In other words, we succeed or we fail in proportion to our usefulness to the people we serve.

We have always believed in that idea. Every improvement we have made, each item of new equipment, each new service has been added with a view to increasing our usefulness to our patrons.

Respectfully,

Winn To Iowa State

Capt. Bob Winn, a 1959 graduate of Canyon High School, who recently returned from his second tour of duty in Vietnam, has been assigned as ROTC instructor at Iowa State University.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Winn of Rankin, Capt. Winn graduated from West Texas State University with a B. B. A. degree in 1964. He is a member of the Alpha Tau Omega fraternity.

He won the Army Combat Infantry Badge and the Bronze Star during his first tour of duty in Vietnam and in 1967 returned to the United States where he was Company Commander in the 1st Armored Division at Ft. Hood. In 1968 he returned to Vietnam were he was awarded the Silver Star, another Bronze Star with Oak Leaf Cluster, the Army Air Medal, the Army Commendation Medal and the Purple Heart for wounds received in action.

Part of his Silver Star award reads: "In the initial contact an element of the company was pinned down. . . Capt. Winn left his secure position to assist. . . With complete disregard for his personal safety, he maneuvered throughout the area. . . he repeatedly exposed himself. . . to maintain control. . . After air strikes drove the insurgents from the area, Capt. Winn directed the extraction of casualties and regrouped his men. . . His courageous actions were instrumental in saving the lives of his comrades and in thwarting the enemy assault.

"Capt. Winn's personal heroism, professional competence, and devotion to duty are in keeping with the highest traditions of the military service, and reflect great credit upon himself, the American Division and the United States Army."

fident" that perhaps on this particular week two or three, or maybe even four of the defendants will plead out--but they don't know which ones. Consequently, they must be equally prepared to try each case and, as has sometimes been the case, may actually do so. The time put into preparation for a case that is never tried before a jury is not wasted time on the part of the prosecutor. It is his duty to be prepared to try a case set for trial and he can't force a defendant to plead guilty.

Yet even preparation for trial is not the main time consumer in the district attorney's office. And murder, rape, arson and armed robbery aren't the main headaches. These crimes receive a lot of publicity, but it's the hot check writers and fathers with a weak sense of family obligation that keep Dowlen's office snowed under.

"We spend more time on hot check cases and reciprocal child support than everything else combined," Dowlen said recently.

Scores of businesses and individuals from throughout Randall county flood the district attorney's office with checks which "bounced" and mothers from everywhere complain of former husbands who won't pay child support.

Most of these are only potential criminal matters, as most persons would just as soon have their money as prosecute a bad check writer and most mothers would as soon have the child support payments as have their children's father put in jail. A lot of letter writing, telephone conversations and personal conferences can work a lot of these problems out. And it takes a lot of time.

In addition to criminal cases, the district attorney's office here handles juvenile cases, which are civil matters that often have to be prepared in much the same manner as criminal cases. In an average year about 10 felony and about 20 misdemeanor cases are tried before juries in Randall County.

Dowlen's office handles about 40 juvenile trials in a year (mostly non-jury trials) and from 30 to 40 minor misdemeanor cases in justice of the peace court.

These are some of the things the district attorney is being paid for and there is considerably more to it than figuring out ways to get sound convictions against "mad-dog killers", which fortunately, don't seem to abound in great numbers around here.

What Dowlen and Hinton don't get paid for, but spend quite a bit of time doing, is explaining to hard-to-convince, taxpaying citizens that they do not comprise a free legal advice service for civil matters nor maintain an office for free family counseling service.

The cost of maintaining Randall County's criminal district attorney and staff is roughly $24,000 a year which might be considered a lot, a little, or a reasonable amount, depending on the viewpoint and the value placed on the services rendered. The $24,000 includes Dowlen's salary of $10,200, Hinton's salary of $7,260, one fulltime secretary at $4,356, and a part-time secretary at about $2,000, and supplies which include legal pads, writing materials, forms and such.

When the prosecutor performs his most well-known duty--that of prosecuting, more expense is incurred. There are a lot of ways to figure the expense to the taxpayer of a trial, but the most common method (used to get the attention of a money-conscious, taxpaying public) is to pro-rate the salaries of the officials involved in the trial (judge, prosecutor, bailiff, public officials who are witnesses, etc.) and add the other expenses.

Though these people are salaried and would presumably be doing something else at the same rate of pay if there were no trial, they are indeed, on the day of a trial, performing one of the duties for which they are being paid.

That's sort of the reasoning for figuring trial expense this way.

Take, for example, an average non-capital felony trial before a jury. First there is the expense of mailing out notices to 100 citizens for jury service. That runs about $20. After excuses and exemptions, say about 50 of them actually are on hand for jury service at $5 per day. That's another $250.

The district judge is there and his salary, pro-rated, comes to about $100 a day. Then there is the court reporter at $40, the prosecution at $75, the bailiff at $18, the district clerk part of the time, say about $10 worth, some police officers or deputies who are taken away from their other duties --add $80, three or four civilian witnesses, who receive $10 a day and 10 cents a mile for traveling here to testify, about $40 more.

What you come up with is about $633 for a routine one-day trial, which may be considered cheap if the state convicts a man who beat up a little girl to get her movie money, or pretty expensive if the convicted felon is a guy who broke into a bubble gum machine and made off with 37 cents (Yes, breaking into a bubble gum machine and stealing the pennies therein is a felony).

An advanced gift drive to benefit the Boy Scouts was directed by Bennie Cooper.

The dollars collected in Randall County will benefit scouts of the county individually as well as help to operate the Llano Estacado Council which covers nine counties and which is above the national average by serving one out of every three boys.

Dollars for scouting raised through the general campaign go to pay for a fulltime man with special scout training to serve the district; to provide an office staff for registration, records and the general scouting program; a fulltime camp ranger and staff making available a camp for local scouters; a local year round camp, valued at about a half-million dollars, special camps and jamborees in the area. In addition the funds go to local activities such as camporees, pow-wow, showandos, field days for explorers, swim meets, scout-o-rama and a scout rodeo; and to provide materials and training aids for scout leaders.

his finest season at West Texas State in three years. He totaled 596 yards as a sophomore and last season ran for 708 yards. His three-year total is 2,082 yards and he stands in fifth place among the school's all-time rushers.

Charles "Wire" Wright is in fourth place in the school's rushing leaders with 2,126 yards, 44 yards in front of Thomas. Pistol Pete Pedro's career total of 2,167 yards is also within easy striking distance of Thomas.

Both Redic and Thomas are close to entering the school's top 10 scoring leaders. Jerry Richardson, who last played in 1963, has 110 points to hold the 10th position and Bob Ratliff, a 1959 graduate, has 115 points for the ninth slot.

Thomas presently has 110 points, counting his nine touchdowns this fall. Redic, who has 40 points this fall, has 107 points and is only in his second season as a Buffalo.

Paced by the linebacker play of Bill McKinney and Windy Williams, two intercepted passes and standout efforts by tackle Stan Hansen, the Buffalo defense rose to halt Western scoring efforts in key spots.

McKinney was credited with five unassisted and 16 assisted tackles and picked off one Western Michigan pass. Williams, Panhandle sophomore, was in his first start and he made two unassisted and 14 assisted stops. Williams replaced injured Jeff Mailliard.

Hansen, who started at linebacker last fall, had his best day at tackle. He had five individual and nine assisted tackles. Troy Anderson provided the second interception, bringing his season total of thefts to six.

Plank noted that the council's proposed work field may be taken over in the future under the articles of a new law which established mandatory teaching of drugs in grades five through 12 throughout the state's schools.

The Potter-Randall Citizens Committee Tuesday decided to appoint a committee to work on the drug problem.

"I suggest we get together with the PRCC and offer to become their committee," Jim Killingsworth said. "We could get together and under their auspices go ahead with what we have planned."

Killingsworth told council members he had prepared an itemized budget of $50,000 which would be required to operate the council for one year.

"We can get by on a lot less if we want to continue as we are now," he said. "But, this budget considers all of the training aids, office rental, the whole works."

The budget includes a $10,000 salary for an executive director. The council has talked of hiring an executive director upon incorporation. Also included is supplies, a secretary, postage and various films and other training aids.

Killingsworth noted that if the council incorporates, several avenues are open to solicit funds. He said some monies are available through federal grants and private donations.

The Aamrillo group which was to have met with the council is involved in training 4-H Club members to convince their peers of the dangers of drug abuse.

Women's drill teams from the schools will also try for prizes in fancy drill.

Trophies are tentatively set to be awarded by Lt. Col. Smith during pre-game ceremonies at the Saturday afternoon West Texas-Bowling Green football game in Buffalo Bowl.

The ROTC detachment each year furnishes flag-raisers and color guard for home football games. Also during the pre-game activities, a member of the corps will lead the Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag of America.

To cap ROTC Week activities, Gov. Smith will dedicate the recently completed Hero Field, which is named in honor of WTSU ROTC graduates killed in Vietnam.

The governor will be in Canyon for other activities Monday and will dedicate the field, which is west of the old National Guard Armory in Canyon, and proclaim ROTC Week.

In more than 300 colleges throughout the nation, ROTC units are celebrating this year the 150th anniversary of the establishment of ROTC.

Capt. Alden Partridge founded campus ROTC when he began his American Literary, Scientific and Military Academy, which is now Norwich University.

Believing that military officers should receive a well-rounded civilian-military education, Capt. Partridge said his idea was in keeping with the traditional American concept of the citizen-soldier and civilian control over military forces.

This year, despite recent protests at various universities, a record graduating class is expected from college ROTC units.

In 1952, ROTC was established at WTSU and until 1965 the basic course was a pre-requisite for graduation.

Since its inception, the WTSU department has expanded to include a band, counter-guerrilla unit, women's drill team, men's drill team, men and women rifle team and junior sponsors.

Girl Eagles Start Season With Two Wins

The Canyon High School girls' basketball team got their new season started off on a winning note Saturday with a 76-52 victory over Gruver and followed it up Tuesday night with a 64-44 triumph over Quitaque.

Following the Gruver game Coach Bob Schneider said the girls showed a lot more team effort than they had in two pre-season scrimmages against Stratford and Panhandle.

"I was more pleased with their hustle than in the scrimmages and our scoring attack was a lot more balanced," the coach said.

Cheryl Davis was the high-point girl with 28, but Jan Sternenberg, with 21, and Linda Lehman, with 19, are proof of an evenly balanced offense.

"Our shooting is as good as it has been all year," Schneider said pointing out that the Girl Eagles hit 60 per cent of their shots from the field. "However, we hit only 50 per cent from the free throw line and I was a little disappointed in that. It's just something we're going to have to work on.

"We also had 16 turnovers, which is still too many. It's a little better than we did in our scrimmages. We had 17 in each of those."

Schneider, who after each of the two scrimmages, said his girls were not starting off well at the beginning of play, said he felt they hit the floor "ready to play" against Gruver.

By midway in the third quarter, Schneider began substituting freely and was able to play all 16 girls.

"Our forwards were much better on defense and the guards did a better job of moving the ball, but still fouled too much," he said.

At the forward end Schneider said Cam Davis and Leta Gill, though they didn't play too much, "showed good possibilities." He said he was also pleased with the play of Kim Tucker and Patty Price.

On defense he said Jenna Thompson "played her usual good game." Cindy Jones and Linda Dudenhoeffer rounded out a good defensive effort. Schneider praised the play of Margaret Patterson, "one of the most improved players we've got."

Others named by Coach Schneider for having played well included Linda Brown, Sheila Payne, Leslie Killingsworth and Terry Donavan.

Schneider had much the same appraisal of the Quitaque victory in which Davis again was leading scorer with 29. Lehman scored 12 points and Sternenberg 11.

"We got into foul trouble pretty early on the guard end and Linda Brown and Margaret Patterson came in and did a real good job," he said.

The Girl Eagles hit 68 per cent of their shots from the field against Quitaque, but their 48 per cent performance from the free throw line remained below what Schneider would like.

While the varsity was at Quitaque, the junior varsity took on Nazareth's varsity and lost a 42-41 squeaker.

The sophomore team downed the Nazareth junior varsity 38-27.

Starting for the JV squad were Ginger Currie, who had 16 points, Marilyn Read, with 3, and Kris Tucker with 2. Joy Williams with 10 points, Lynette Slack with 6 and Kenda Lamkin, with 4, also saw a lot of action.

Starting on defense were Connie Stark, Barbara Russell and Roxie Knox. Coach Peggy Smith spelled the defensive starters with Karen Pettit, Julie Coffman and Mary Miller.

Yvonne Dooley, Kenda Hood and Lynn Bowes started for the squad. Hood scored 10 points, Bowes 8, and alternates Vesta Wilson and Penny Griffin bucketed 8 and 12 points respectively.

Coach Smith said the junior varsity moved well but didn't hit well, missing a number of close in shots. She said her sophomore guards moved better than they had in pre-season scrimmages.

Duane, Anderson Honored

For the second time this season, Troy Anderson, high-flying safety for the West Texas State University Buffaloes, has been named top defensive player of the week.

Head Buff Coach Joe Kerbel announced the top team members at Monday night's meeting of the Buffalo Touchdown Club in the University Complex South on WTSU campus.

Duane Thomas, hard-hitting fullback for the Buffs, was for the second time named top offensive player in the Saturday afternoon West Texas-Western Michigan game.

West Texas State walloped the Broncos 28-20 before a Kalamazoo crowd.

Anderson, when appearing before the Touchdown Club membership, commented briefly on his ability to block field goal attempts.

"The biggest part is the outside help I get," he said. "If I don't get the outside man blocked, then I don't get it."

Anderson explained that for the field goal block to work, Harold Stuart must block his offensive end out of Anderson's path to the ball.

Anderson has blocked two field goal attempts this season.

Thomas, who is a candidate for All-American honors, was modest about his excellent showing in Michigan. He tallied 169 yards and scored three touchdowns.

"I'm glad I'm receiving this honor, but really I believe all the credit shouldn't come to me," he said. "It should go to the entire team because we won the game and football is a unit effort; it takes teamwork to win."

In looking to this Saturday's outing against a tough Bowling Green team, Coach Kerbel said his boys will be watching a tough contender in Joe Green, a middle linebacker who won All-Conference honors for Bowling Green last year.

Kerbel said the Bowling Green quarterback, Vern Wireman, "is good, but he's not as good as Shaw."

Shaw was the Northern Arizona University quarterback, who Kerbel cited as possibly the best quarterback to play in Buffalo Bowl.

In comparing Bowling Green to Western Michigan, Kerbel said the Falcons are not as big as the Broncos.

Bowling Green is second in their conference.

Unbeaten JVs Face 2 More

Only two more teams stand between the Canyon High School junior varsity football team and an unbeaten, untied season and the first of these obstacles will be tackled at 7 p.m. tonight when the Eagles take on Tulia there.

The Eagles made Alamo Catholic's JV their seventh straight victim last week to the tune of 63-6. Next week they will wind up their season by meeting Perryton at Phillips.

Coach Clark Mires said the JV players said last May that their goal this season was to go undefeated "and I've never seen anybody work so hard to reach a goal."

A sophomore game scheduled for the High School Field tonight was canceled by Friona, Coach Mires said, and as a result these sophomores who were to play here will travel with the rest of the junior varsity to Tulia for that game.

Through seven games the JV Eagles have scored a total of 347 points while giving up only 12.

CHS Boosters Set Hamburgers

Eagle Booster Club members and parents will provide a hamburger supper today for the Eagle varsity football team immediately after practice.

The feed will be held at the home of Mrs. Wayne Wirt.

The supper was planned by parents at the Booster Club meeting Tuesday night to show the team that they are indeed Eagle Boosters and are 100 per cent behind the team.

Coach Dunny Goode told the Boosters that there were some fine performances in the Perryton game and that Kelly Tinsley played as fine a game as he had ever seen.

In showing the film of the game, Goode pointed out that Gary Schrib played a good game despite his having a broken bone in his wrist.

"We were real proud of Gary's performance," Goode said.

Coach Clark Mires, who is in charge of the undefeated junior varsity, said all 65 members of the JV team got to play in every quarter in last week's 63-6 win over Alamo Catholic.

"We beat Tulia pretty had early this year, but I don't think that is any indication of how this game will be," Mires said of tonight's JV opponent.

On next week's foe, the last one of the year for the JV Eagles, Mires said, "I am sure Perryton will be able to challenge us, but our kids set a goal last May to have an undefeated season. I think Perryton will have to be tough to take it away from us.

"We've got a few injured players right now and we will hold them out of the Tulia game. I think we will be at full strength for Perryton.

In looking back over the season, during which the junior varsity has reeled off seven straight wins, Mires said, "I want to acknowledge the tremendous help given by our two fine assistant coaches B. B. Kendrick and Bob Schneider."

Club president Eural Ramsey said he hoped next week's meeting, a special one and the last before the season ends, would be attended by at least 500 Eagle boosters.

In other business Monday, the commission voted to buy an IBM typewriter for $466. In doing so, they accepted the highest bid submitted. Others ranged from $325 to $388.

"I request we buy the IBM," said County Judge Carroll Brown. "It's the best machine for the job. It's the most expensive, but I think it will be a lot better."

"I'm a little slow on that," said Clarence Beckman. "The next thing you know we'll be buying Cadillacs. We just as well quit taking bids because we know everybody wants an IBM."

Backman didn't vote on the proposal. The judge didn't ask for the negative vote to be voiced.

games," he said. "We'd like to finish the season with a winning record. We'd like to be the first team to do it."

Coach Goode referred to the fact that no Canyon team has finished with a winning record since the Eagles began competing as an AAA team. Victories over Muleshoe Friday night and Tulia next week would give them a season record of 5-4-1.

Looking back on the 21-6 loss to Perryton last Friday, Goode said there were some fine performances with Kelly Tinsley playing "one of the finest games I've ever seen a tackle play."

The 190-pound Tinsley got five individual tackles and 16 assists in leading a defensive charge that held the Rangers scoreless until the final seconds of the third quarter.

Other outstanding defensive players included Darrell Brietling with 12 tackles and 13 assists, Ron Minier with 10 tackles and 13 assists, and Rick Hales with 14 tackles and 7 assists. Andy Hanson was credited with the best defensive performance with a grade of 90 after game films were studied.

On offense high scores were made by center Chris Hull with 89, Pat Hickman, who caught a touchdown pass, with 89, and tackle Calvin Yarbrough with 83. In the backfield David Carter received a grade of 89 and Robert Bull an 80.
